The Lone Star Historical Miniatures (LSHM).

We promote miniatures wargaming in primarily historical periods but also fantasy/sci-fi. We are not dedicated to one rule set or scale. We promote miniatures wargaming by running events, helping local conventions, and assisting with tournaments, financial backing and run demo games. We will also run gaming classes at schools. We encourage all gamers to be a part of our group to help support our common hobby.

Here we are in 2020 – Happy New Year to all. I hope you had a great 2019 and will have an awesome 2020. I would love to hear what you have on your project list this year. Time to start thinking about MillenniumCon 2020 and what game you plan to run – never too early to start working on that project.

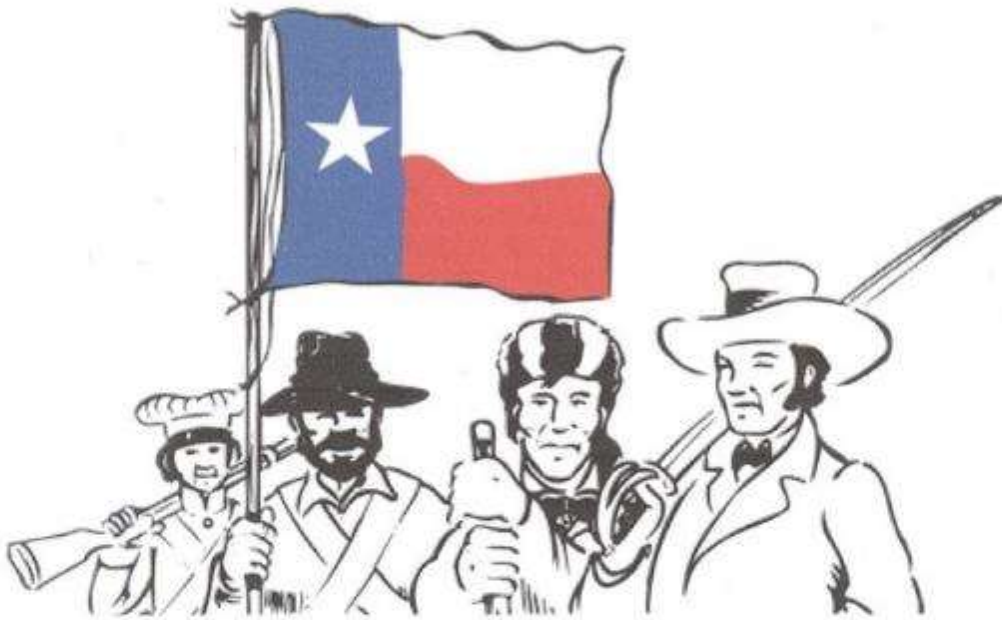

Keep watch on the LSHM newsletter and face-book page for some exciting news about this year's MillenniumCon. We expect to make a MAJOR announcement in early January.

I'm not sure what I want to work on in 2020, I normally have a project planned and all laid out to work throughout the year. Two years ago it was 28mm American Civil War (Fire & Fury Regimental). I was able to paint and mount around 600+ figures building the US VI Corps at Gettysburg. I also built a Confederate division.

So send me your gaming projects and plans and I will post it here in the newsletter. Also continue to send me your battle reports, game days, events, etc.....

Have a great early 2020, see you at the gaming table this year.

Story by Mark Leroux

We had a wicked battle of 3-on-3 Warlords of Erehwon with Blake Radetzky, Chip Aaron, Cameron Radetzky and Carlos Sierra.

Dwarves and Orcs vs. Elves and Barbarians. Don't ask why it worked out that way. Alliances can get complicated, just ask NATO.

The pre-game involved a lot of smack talk via text messages. Bad blood was running thick before the battle began. The game was played at Multiverse Games - San Antonio

The first few turns were good for the E-Bs. Withering bow fire sl...owed down the D-Os and put several pins on the dwarves. Orc archers were killed and the dwarf organ grinder was wiped out in one volley of arrows from the elf rangers.

Then, the tide turned for the D-Os. The Elf cavalry attempted a charge on the dwarf battle lines. Cavalry was pushed back several times by the dwarves with help from the orc chariot. The cav was eventually destroyed and one elf general with it. Meanwhile the barbarian and orc generals met in the center of the table for a vicious duel. When the dust settled, the barbarian king stood victorious over the mighty orc leader.

The game was called on turn 6. The Dwarf-Orc alliance lost more units but the Elf-Barbarian alliance lost more in point value. The victory went to the D-Os

Stay tuned for the grudge rematch.

LSHM Team Yankee WWII

San Antonio, Texas

By Chris Lisanti

WW III Update. Rob (W. Germans) + Tony (British) took on Chris (combined Poles and Soviets) in a capture the objectives mission.

NATO smartly used their spearheads to capture the objective in their table half and contest the middle objective while the Warsaw Pact used their spearhead merely to secure the objective in their table half.

After that, it was a game of attrition with more smoking wrecks on the Warsaw Pact side, but more infantry casualties on the NATO side.

At the end, the Warsaw Pact was unable to contest the middle objective and NATO held the victory.

Join us at Multiverse Games of San Antonio each Thursday night for some Flames Of War modern gaming: Team Yankee – Fate of Nations and FOW Viet Nam.

Games of Black Seas allow you to recreate the thrilling naval battles of the age of sail in all their glory. Utilising a unique and innovative initiative system based around the most important factor of sail powered combat - the wind. Additional rules enable you to fight in a 'line of battle', engage shore batteries, take your enemies with withering initial broadsides or capture vessels in heroic boarding actions. All while avoiding such hazards to navigation as fog banks, fire ships and shipwrecks, rules allow you to field fleets comprised of vessels ranging from the tiniest galleon up to the true giants of the waves, the mighty rate warships. Also included are rules for such famed vessels as Bucentauro, Santissima Trinidad, USS Constitution, and the legendary HMS Victory.

Pike & Shotte Game – Game Closet Waco Texas

The Battle of Marston Moor was fought on 2 July 1644

8 of us got together at the Game Closet in Waco, Texas on Sunday 29, December from all over Texas including McKinney, Irving, Red Oak, Temple and Austin.

Sides... consisted of:

Royalists:

Alan Spencer-Temple

Matt Vegas-Austin

Mike Berry-rumored from Austin

Steve Miller...Red Oak

Parliamentarians/Scots

Scott Hendrickson-Mc Kinney

Ben Earnest-Waco or thereabouts

The other Steve (good Steve)-Irving, Texas

A close run thing for both sides on the right!

We played on a 16x4' table graciously set up by the owner of the Game Closet. Big Thanks! The forces ended up being 18 regiments of Foote, 35 Regiments of Horse, 4 Commanded Shot, 3 Dragoons. We had enough forces left over to kit out at least two more players so suffice to say we're flush for figures at this point although it would be cool to add another 16x4 table set if folks were interested to paint figures or attend with their collections. More on that later.

I will focus upon the center and the Royalist right flank as it was a hot and heavy point in the battle.

Right Flank:

Good Steve and Infernal Steve started the ball on Turn 1 and hit the ground at a gallop. This ended up a scrum down at the midfield line for the rest of the battle. Both sides had units evaporate and retire. The cavalry battle was a swirling mess all game. The Scots gave better than the received for sure but the arrival of Prince Rupert's Lifeguard and the reserve horse held by Infernal Steve was loosed and the Scots faltered. At NO time did the Scots rout in masse. This was due to some great generalship by the Scot General Good Steve .

Center:

This was hotly contested as well. Ben's Parliamentarian foote applied a load of hot lead upon the Royalist forces. Matt and Mike both took the field and fought tooth and nail to hold against Ben's Juggernaut. Eventually it looked as if the Parliamentarians had pushed the Royalists back and the center was in doubt. I'll let the generals "on scene" give their views. It was hard to see down the full length of the table due to the smoke and din of battle.

Left:

The Parliamentarian Horse again took to spurs and a huge cavalry scrum down occurred on the left flank. Scott Clinton and Alan Spencer didn't shy away from throwing in every unit on the wing. Parliamentary forces apparently achieved the victory leaving the flank a bit chancy due to the collapse of Lord Goring.

We ceded the victory to Parliament and the Scots this day. There is always another good day to die.

Lord Eythin

Lord Eythin

Black Powder Pike&Shotte gave a good game to all. The rules were simple, the morale was a bit weird at first but once one got "in the groove", ended up being ok. The only thing was the amount of time it took since it is an I go-You go game. I personally like the randomness and speed of Victory without Quarter but in this venue, with the number of players, would have been a disaster to run and play.

Ending thoughts? Should we do this again? Yes, it should be an annual or semi annual event since it drew players from all over Texas. This game is a great example of the true function of the Lone Star Historical Miniatures Association; bringing together players from a huge geographic area in common interest. Yes folks, great games DO happen outside of San Antonio haha!! What's next? The Battle of Newcastle and the Queen's Sconce! We have the collections and terrain (legit) to do this right. You should plan on joining us.

Hat tip to all that participated and contributed. If you missed this , you missed a classic, epic game that just doesn't happen very oft

Friday Night is Bolt Action Night At Dragon's Lair San Antonio!! Texas Bolt Action

Come out to Dragon's Lair just about every Friday Night for some Bolt Action – both regulars and new Players welcome! We usually start around 5/6pm

The Early FoWSA tournament in 2020 will be Saturday April 4th. Using the 3rd edition points and books, 4th edition rules. At Dragon's Lair San Antonio Medical Center.

This is the tournament with style! In what other period can you see 5-turreted tanks? Unless you're playing Ogre.

A flyer will be forthcoming. If you have suggestions on theme tell me.

APRIL 4, 1939 (TUESDAY)

Hungary and the Slovak Republic signed a peace treaty in Budapest ending their short conflict. Slovakia ceded a small amount of territory to Hungary.[5]

APRIL 4, 1940 (THURSDAY)

Neville Chamberlain gave a speech to the Conservative Party in London stating he was confident of victory and that Hitler had "missed the bus" by not taking advantage of Germany's military superiority over Britain at the beginning of the war.[11]

APRIL 4, 1941 (FRIDAY)

The Germans and Italians took Benghazi.[5]

Hitler issued Directive No. 27, Plan of Attack on Greece.

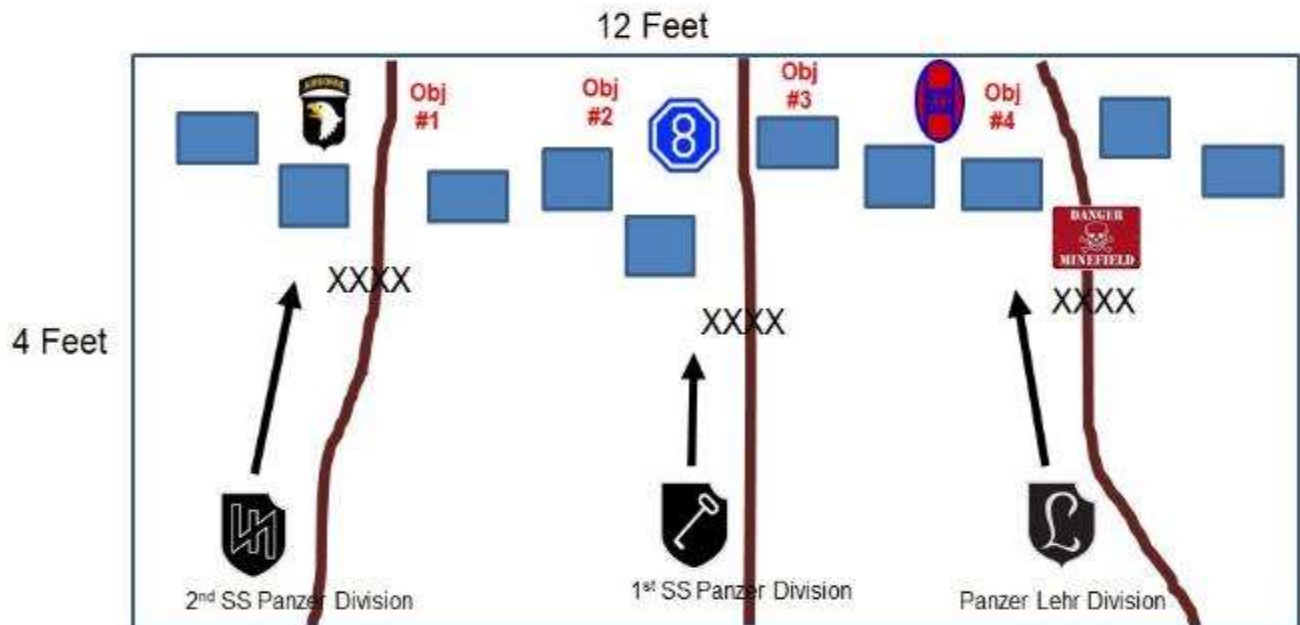

Americans successfully defend town of Bastogne.

The American defenders of Bastogne, from 30th Infantry Division and 101st Airborne Division along with French units from 8th US Corps successfully repelled the German attackers. Charles Torok (30th Infantry Division), Joshua Van Meter (101st Airborne) and Oscar Barela (French Units of 8 Corps) met the onslaught of the German attackers.

The German attackers were commanded by Tony Squeo (1st SS Panzer), Christopher Lisanti (2nd Panzer) and Donovan Hubbard (Panzer Lehr). The attack began slowly for the Germans as they began to take heavy fire from the well hidden Allied units.

Bastogne village

-  Buildings
-  Road Blocks
-  Hidden Mine Field

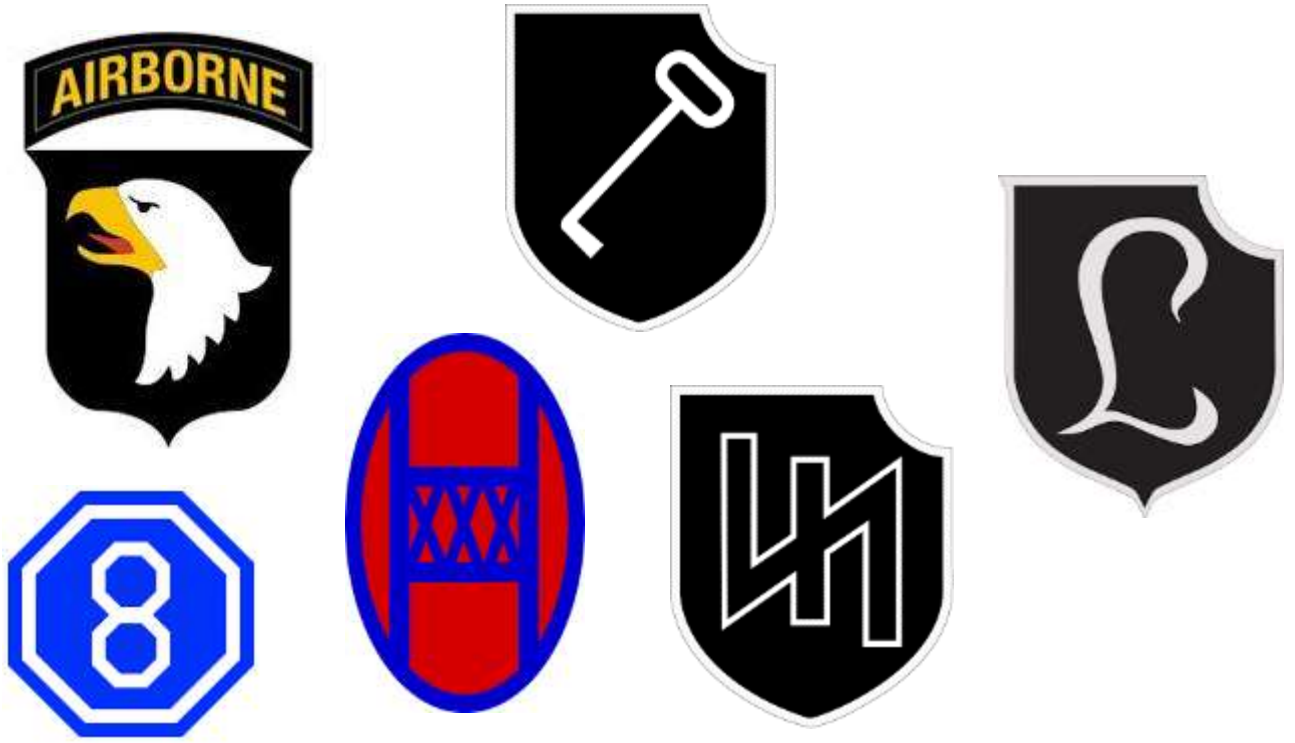

Oberst Squeo had a particularly bad run of luck when a transport was hit by mortar fire and destroyed, inflicting multiple casualties on the occupants, who were forced to debark and find cover. The Germans then began shelling the town with heavy HE fire from their tanks and began inflicting casualties on the defenders.

The Germans were advancing slowly due to the possibility of mines reported by sketchy intelligence reports. The reports turned out to only be partially correct as they eventually only encountered one hastily emplaced mine field which Major Hubbard was able to deftly avoid with almost comical impunity. Several times.

The Allies were fairing well when a well placed Nebelwerfer attack hit a key building in town dropping it, and inflicting many KIAs in the building and surrounding units. The fire almost destroyed the fuel depot which was a primary objective of the Germans. One of the casualties was the American FOO who had just called in artillery fire from supporting 155mm howitzers with minor success. He was able to locate another artillery unit to fire but was unable to direct the fire and lost the opportunity to fire again.

In turn 4 the Allies received assistance from an M18 Hellcat from 705th TD Battalion and a Sherman tank from 9th Armored Division. The German attack succeeded in getting close to two of the objectives, which would have forced a draw, but aggressive counterattacks cancelled the German gains. Had the Germans had an additional 1 or 2 turns they could have taken the objectives and possibly held them.

This was due to the defenders on the Northern flank, 101st Airborne, not being able to recover from the devastating fire they encountered from Major Lisanti's advance towards the town. 101st gave as well as it received but just could not rally troops successfully. It appears a fun time was had by all and we are planning another battle during the first quarter of 2020.

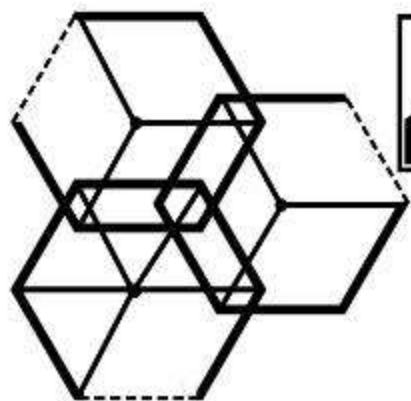

We have already received suggestions for 75th Anniversary of Battles of Berlin or the fighting in the Ruhr. If there is a particular theme that interests some of you let us know and we will put it to a vote or decide amongst the most popular suggestions. Time frame will probably be near mid March so plan accordingly or suggest another time frame...
