

Welcome to August and the middle of summer. If you are like me your ready for the fall and winter. We are about two weeks into MillenniumCon Game Master (GM) registration. As of this writing we have 67 games registered. I see a wide variety of games. You can view the listed games by logging in at www.millenniumcon.info.

Throughout the newsletter you will find between now and November a number of games and highlights surrounding MillenniumCon – we hope you are planning to attend this year.

I've been busy painting some 28mm ECW and Epic Scale Napoleonic (French and Prussians) Write and let me know what you have been working on.

We have a number of great vendors lined up for MillenniumCon this year – we still have four vendor tables for reservation if you are interested.

There are a number of great local gaming events around Texas this month, see inside the newsletter for details. See you at the gaming table and hopefully at MillenniumCon 2022!!

Round Rock, TX 78664

The hotel and convention center has come under new ownership as of 1 June 2022, in the long run this will be a great thing – they plan to remodel the facility and add a restaurant and rooftop bar and other amenities. For the short term it has put a snag in the call-in reservation system – new employees not familiar with LSHM / MillenniumCon. You may hit a snag trying to reserve your room by phone. The best method is to reserve on-line under the “rate applied” tab using the Group Code: “GCMC22”

Battle Report: By Fire & Sword

By Pete Atack

A group of us sat down in Austin to play a game using "By Fire & Sword" rules. I along with Kevin and Travis Stork and Albert DiMarco set up for a large battle pitting a Polish-Brandenburg alliance against a large Ottoman army fighting over a ruined village.

This was played at the Task Force level with each player fielding a total of 25 Force Points (which is about as large as you probably want at the Task Force level).

The initial rush of cavalry saw skirmishers cleared away, but they served their purpose and broke up the advance of the regular cavalry units. In the center, dragoons and infantry fought over the ruins with the Alliance gaining the initial upper hand, but Ottoman reinforcements stabilized the situation.

However... the flanks... The Ottomans put up a very fierce initial fight, but morale rolls just hammered them and significant parts of their army fled allowing the Alliance to gain an upper hand and pull out a win.

6 August 2022

Middle FoWSA XIV

You are invited to the 2022 Mid-War Flames of War San Antonio Tournament, known as Middle FoWSA 14 and sponsored by Lone Star Historical Miniatures.

The tournament will be held on Saturday, August 6th, 2022 in BattlePub Games, in the first floor of Rolling Oaks mall, San Antonio, Texas (6909 N. loop 1604 East, suite 1168).

On the day of the event, doors open 11:00AM, registration opens at 11:30 AM, pairing at 12:00 noon. Expect play to continue until 11PM. We will try eating dinner from the food court; there will be no lunch break due to our noon start.

We will play 4th edition rules.

Entry to this Mid War Tournament will cost $10.00. Tournament fees are payable on the day of event at the door.

LISTS: Please Email all lists to Ian Straus at ian.straus@att.net by noon July 30th 2022 for approval.

Send lists with subject line "Middle FoWSA 14 list", else they will be lost in the spam and you won't be registered.

For this Tournament, you will use a single list of 110 (one hundred and ten) 4th edition points. Armies must be built from the current 4th Ed. mid war army books and cards available as of May 20th 2022. Heroes will not be used.

NOTE the on-line guidance from Battlefront that you can mix troops from different list books to some extent: "Forces may include elements from any book also belonging to the same group as the base Formation in the form of an entire Allied Formation or a Compulsory Unit from an Allied Formation as a Support Unit."

If you have questions, email ian.straus@att.net with subject line "Middle FoWSA 14 list" or call 210-413-1995.

Lists must show the player's name, player's city, the book(s) on which they are based, the force's nationality, name and page number. Lists must list units, showing the number and types of stands in each platoon, as well as the point costs and upgrades; and special rules that apply.

Bring copies of your list for your opponent to look at, and bring the source book.

There will be 3 rounds played. Missions will be announced at sign-in.

Priorities in pairings in round 1: Pair Axis vs. Allied; pair opponents from different cities.

Priorities of pairings in rounds 2 & 3 will be: No repeats vs. the same opponent; pair Axis vs. Allied; Highest cumulative scores vs. highest.

Prizes will be awarded to best overall general, best Axis, and best Allied players. Terrain will be appreciated, and I will give a prize for the best table. (We provide the table, you provide everything on top of it, 4'x6'.) We will set up terrain on Saturday at 11:00AM. Please tell me if you intend to participate in the terrain table contest, so that I may send you table criteria and forms.

Ball Room Game Times:

Time Block BR3: Saturday: 9-1

Time Block BR4: Saturday: 3-7

Time Block H: Sunday: 9-1

We have changed up game times a little this year. We received a lot of input over the years that the first session each day was too early, so we have gone to the following time slots: Reduced the regular games to 3 1/2 hours as opposed to 4 hours - allows for a little later start time - gives GMs more time to setup in the morning. Those games that take 4+ hours to play can use the ball room game time slots.

For each time slot there are:

12 each 8'x5' tables

25 each 6'x5' tables

4 each 5'x4' tables

Ball Room Tables for each time slot:

5 each 8'x5' tables

NOTE: if you would like to reserve a Ball Room table or require a larger table than 8x5 contact me direct at: torokc@Hotmail.com

On Saturday July 23rd five of us played a Napoleonic Age of Sail game using Bloody Broadsides Rule Set developed by Jeffrey Hunt (more information below) at the Printed Meeple at 13032 Nacogdoches Rd, San Antonio.

Bruce Syvinski

“Bloody Broadsides” from Portsmouth Miniatures and Games – is a fast-paced Napoleonic Naval game which allows you to Captain one or more ships of the line or frigates from the Age of Sail. Most games can be played in 3 hours. This game is intended to play with miniature ships on a large hex mat. These rules were written specifically for Portsmouth Miniatures and Games 1:900 scale ships but may be used with any miniatures. Games may be as small as one-on-one Captain Duels or larger naval battles like the Battle of Trafalgar involving over 60 ships.

Scenario Overview: The scenario was based on a historical engagement (ships sizes and names were changed) that took place in December 1804 off the coast of southern Portugal near Cape St. Vincent. A French squadron of three ships (Le Bucentaure - 80 Guns, Le Pluton - 74 Guns and Le Vengeance - 40 Guns) were escorting a Spanish Frigate (La Medea - 40 Guns) to the port of Cadiz, Spain. La Medea was carrying a shipment of Gold from South America needed to complete Spanish ships to support the French. The British Admiralty received information regarding this shipment and sent three ships (HMS Mars – 74 Guns, HMS Lion – 64 Guns, and HMS Guerriere – 38 Guns) to either capture La Medea or sink her to deny the Spanish the use of the gold she was carrying.

at MillenniumCon 2022

Participants: Rodney Castro and Martin Zamarripa captained the three ships of the French Naval squadron plus the La Medea. Sanders Marble and Bowen Marble captained the three ships of the English Naval squadron.

Summary of the game: The French Squadron, sailing East for the Spanish Port of Cadiz, began in a triangular formation with the La Medea in the center of the triangle. The British Squadron, sailing from Gibraltar, were on an intercept course bearing Northwest in line abreast. The British sent 38-Gun HMS Guerriere after the 40-Gun La Medea with canon fire traded between these two frigates with the 44-Gun frigate Le Vengeance joining in. The 74-Gun HMS Mars and 44-Gun Le Vengeance then began trading cannon fire, which will later result in Le Vengeance striking its colors due to hull damage. By turn 4 all seven ships (3 British, 3 French, 1 Spanish) were engaged. The 64-Gun HMS Lion and 74-Gun Le Pluton exchanged broadsides for several rounds until Le Pluton disengaged and reengaged with 74-Gun HMS Mars. The 80-Gun Le Bucentaure engaged with the 64-Gun HMS Lion. The ships would become fouled, then HMS Lion grappled with LE Bucentaure. After several rounds HMS Lion struck its colors due to crew losses.

Result: The French squadron's aggressive engagement with the British squadron provided the opportunity for the gold-laden Frigate La Medea to continue sailing Eastward at full sail and ultimately deliver its cargo to the Port of Cadiz. The French Squadron accomplished its mission of protecting La Medea and prevailed, albeit with the loss of the Frigate La Vengeance.

Battle Tech

By Frank Crull

"Misery, Misery, Misery. That's what you've chosen!" - Green Goblin

Any game system will point out that in-game there are certain events or battles. For the BattleTech Universe, the Battle of Misery, a month long affair between the Draconis Combine (House Kurita) and the mercenary unit Wolf's Dragoons, the battle that occurred managed to make all of the participants miserable.

From the source book Historical Turning Points: Misery, patrols would be going out, encountering a group, and calling for reinforcements. Forces for both sides were determined by the source book. Since Misery is an iceball world, high winds and treacherous terrain would be factors. Fortunately for both sides, the terrain was not a significant factor. The elements still played a part because of the threat of a failed die roll and triggering the terrain issue.

The initial approach for Kurita was using two Shadow Hawks, a Phoenix Hawk and an Enforcer. The Dragoons countered with two Hoplites, a Dervish and a Vindicator.

The Kuritans on the right side tried to take advantage of the cover offered by the budlings and started shooting at the Vindicator.

Lion Rampant In 15mm

By Mark Reed

Today at The Printed Meeples in san Antonio Texas, we tried Lion Rampant in a 48 pts per side battle. But instead of 28mm, we did it in 15mm.

Steve Leopard and Rusty Rogers driving 24 pts of Ghaznavids and 24 pts of Turks took on my 24 pt Middle Imperial and 24 pts of Celts. Celts were on my right, Romans left and center.

The battle was getting away from Romans early with both my mounted sergeants dying, including the Roman general, then the Celtic cavalry lost their right side mounted yeoman in a charge against Turkish archers, but it kept them busy for a few turns.

The other Celtics cavalry fought against Turkish shooting upgraded mtd sergeants, and a Serbian knight force. At that point the surge turned and the barbarian cavalry rustled through the mtd forces for a bit. Bidowers shooting and foot sergeants and foot yeomen launched out thinning the myd forces.

But even eliminating both Turkish and Ghaznavid generals wasn't quite enough. The Roman/Barbarian forces hit 5 units while the others had 7 still on table. All in all, a good game, 15mm using stands instead of figures gave it a different feel and we played on a slightly smaller table size than the 28mm forces.

UNIT NAME: Mounted Saracens POINTS: 4

Attack	2+	Attack Value	4+
Move	5"	Defense Value	5+
Shoot		Shoot Value	-
Courage	4+	Max. Movement	10"
Armor	3	Special	Counter Charge

Counter-Charge: Roll 7+. If successful, meets half way and count as attacking. Fails stands in place for defense.

We play 28mm Lion Rampant mostly on Tuesdays at the Printed Meeples around noon, with a smaller group playing on Thursdays. Likely in 15mm so we Get some less used toys out on the table.

Battle Report: Test of Honour

By Pete Attack

Four of us met up to play a side-by-side learning game, but thankfully, the rules were largely similar with only a few small tweaks.

One battle turned bloody very quickly seeing one faction cut down by a mix of arrows and well placed spear tips and sword slashes. The other started as a defensive struggle, but saw losses pile up once minor wounds piled up.

The plan is to get this on the table and play thru the linked scenarios or general scenarios as this makes for an easy evening game (low mini count and not terrain heavy).

Watch for more Test of Honour games, and maybe a game at MillenniumCon 2022??

Fire & Fury

American Civil War

Rob Gravener and I met up for our second playtest of Fire&Fury American Civil War rules at Dragons Lair - Medical Center Friday night. We are both getting back into this game after a few years off. This second game went a lot smoother as the rules start coming back - we played 5 turns in about 2 hours.

We decided to play the game on the long edge of the table for a game in depth. We used a random die roll to determine the quality of leaders and units with the Confederate units holding an advantage over the Union. We continue to experiment on this process. The Virginian Brigade ended with a number of Crack and Veteran regiments.

Both sides advanced and engaged each other in musketry and artillery fire causing moderate casualties to both sides - the artillery batteries taking a pounding from each other.

I introduced a cavalry regiment using it to rush forward and dismount to engage the Louisianians. The rest of the Union Brigade behind it caught up and engaged the Southerners on that flank.

The game ended as the Virginians came out of the woods and charged the Union left resulting in a fall back for the North. Rob and I plan to continue our learning and "mastering" of the rules - with many games planned in the future.

GAME KASTLE AUSTIN

by Josh Atchley

Josh Atchley at Game Kastle - Austin.

Some photos from Flames of War in Austin on Friday! Had a mix of eras last night, with Warren and I playing mid war in preparation for the tournament in San Antonio, by to chat and observe — always nice to see you as well!

Warren was with his German Panzergrenadiers battling my Soviet T34s. Coming from late war, the flavor of the earlier era was a lot of fun and very different. We also had another game going in late war, with Mike's Hungarians facing off against Aaron's Soviet T34-85s. Thanks also to those who stopped by to chat and observe — always nice to see you as well!

Plan to attend and play in the MillenniumCon Texas Flames of War Championship on 13 November 2022 in Round Rock Texas, visit WWW.millenniumcon.info
